

THERE'S NO FULL STOP TO LEARNING

Year: Reception

Term: Summer 1

Topic: Under The Sea – Turtle Watch

Our vision is to enable children to become lifelong learners by creating a safe and inclusive learning environment that nurtures individuality and enhances potential.

Physical Development

- Children can hop confidently and skip in time to music.
- They hold paper in position and use their preferred hand for writing, using a correct pencil grip.
- They are beginning to be able to write on lines and control letter size.
- Children know about, and can make healthy choices in relation to, healthy eating and exercise.
- They can dress and undress independently, successfully managing fastening buttons or laces.

English

- Children can read phonically regular words of more than 1 syllable as well as many irregular but high frequency words.
- They use phonic, semantic and syntactic knowledge to understand unfamiliar vocabulary.
- They can describe the main events in the simple stories they have read.
- Children can spell phonically regular words of more than 1 syllable as well as many irregular but high frequency words.
- They use key features of narrative in their own writing.

Expressive Arts and Design

- Children talk about the ideas and processes which have led them to make music, designs, images or products. They can talk about features of their own and others' work, recognising the differences between them and the strengths of others.
- Children develop their own ideas through selecting and using materials and working on processes that interest them. Through their explorations they find out and make decisions about how media and materials can be combined and changed.

Understanding the World

- Children know the difference between past and present events in their own lives and some reasons why people's lives were different in the past.
- They know that other children have different likes and dislikes and that they may be good at different things.
- They understand that different people have different beliefs, attitudes, customs and traditions and why it is important to treat them with respect.
- Children know that the environment and living things are influenced by human activity.
- They can describe some actions which people in their own community do that help to maintain the area they live in.
- They know the properties of some materials and can suggest some of the purposes they are used for. They are familiar with basic scientific concepts such as floating, sinking, experimentation.
- Children find out about and use a range of everyday technology.
- They select appropriate applications that support an identified need, for example in deciding how best to make a record of a special event in their lives.

Skills and Knowledge

Maths

- Count reliably with numbers 1-20, place them in order and say which number is one more or one less than a given number
- Children estimate a number of objects and check quantities by counting up to 20.
- They solve practical problems that involve combining groups of 2, 5 or 10, or sharing into equal groups.
- Children estimate, measure, weigh and compare and order objects and talk about properties, position and time.

Characteristics of Learning

- develop and link concepts
- find meaning in sequence, cause and effect
- find meaning in the intentions of others
- approaching goal-directed activity in organised ways
- making choices and decisions about how to approach tasks
- planning and monitoring what to do and being able to change strategies

Communication and Language

- Children listen to instructions and follow them accurately, asking for clarification if necessary.
- They listen attentively with sustained concentration to follow a story without pictures or props.
- They can listen in a larger group, for example, at assembly.
- After listening to stories children can express views about events or characters in the story and answer questions about why things happened.

Personal, Social, Emotional Development

- Children are confident speaking to a class group.
- They can talk about the things they enjoy, and are good at, and about the things they do not find easy.
- They are resourceful in finding support when they need help or information.
- They can talk about the plans they have made to carry out activities and what they might change if they were to repeat them.
- Children know some ways to manage their feelings and are beginning to use these to maintain control.
